Trekker's Nest

CONCEPT

The architectural concept of the 'Trekker's Nest' project celebrates the convergence of adventure and comfort within a mobile framework.

Functioning as a nomadic retreat, it provides a spatial solution conducive to the lifestyles of individuals characterized by wanderlust and an insatiable disposition. Rooted in a synthesis of refined aesthetics and pragmatic functionality, this design initiative transforms mere habitude space, embodying a holistic approach to experiential living.

This modular microhome, with a modest 18-square-meter footprint, is designed to cater to the needs of a hypothetical young professional couple. Emphasizing cost-effectiveness and space efficiency, the design allows for comfortable living within a compact space. It incorporates essential zones like sleeping, living/working, cooking, bathroom facilities, and storage, maximizing utility within its square meter.

SECTIONED AXONOMETRY

With a base module of 18 square meters of usable space, this mobile home is designed to facilitate further expansion through the addition of compartmentalization units on the sides of the main body, thereby providing maximum flexibility in design and utilization. This modular approach confers significant benefits in terms of adaptability and customization of space according to the individual requirements of the occupant.

The modular structure of this mobile home does not compromise comfort or functionality. The functional bottom structure combines with the living zone with Module 1, showcasing an integrated approach to design and functionality. Additionally, the design allows for further expansion with Module 2, which can incorporate generous living space, providing a versatile living space adaptable to varying needs and preferences. To enhance the connection with the surrounding environment and to offer an outdoor living experience, two foldable side terraces complete this concept, achieving a harmonious balance between internal and exterior spaces.

Regarding sustainability and energy efficiency, the base module is constructed using high-quality thermal-insulated materials and innovative technologies, such as the installation of heat recovery systems and solar panels. These elements not only reduce the carbon footprint but also provide autonomy and energy independence, essential components in the context of a mobile construction.
